The Joy of Giving

God has given mankind many forms of joy, ranging from wondering at the first cry of an infant to the melody of the trill of birds, the fragrance of flowers, the caress of a breeze, quenching of thirst, the sound of music wafting from afar. the list is limited only by our own sensitivities. The list can surely include the joy we feel in seeing the glint of happiness in the eyes of a child to whom going to school has changed from a distant dream to today's reality, the gratefulness in the face of a youth who has been shown the ladder of high education and a means of livelihood in place. The hope of a better tomorrow in the despondent mind of an old lady stricken with an illness she was unable to get treated for. . . in short, the joy that springs forth from giving happiness to a child, future to a youth and pain relief to a sick person knows no bounds.

Many years ago the renowned singer Mukesh sang;
*Apne liye jiye to kya jiye,
Tu jee ay dil, zamaney ke liye.*

These words beseeched us to give something of ourselves to those needing happiness, hope, vision, growth, success and sharing the misery of a sick human being through compassion, helping and caring and sharing.

Our Commitment to Social Responsibility

Meher Care Foundation felt the urge to be of service to humanity in some small way. Realizing it is impractical to attempt to solve the myriad problems of our entire country, Meher Care decided to focus on the deprived sections of society in Karnataka with more emphasis on Education, Health Care and Socio-Economic Care.

The Projects undertaken so far can be summarized as shown:

1. Education
2. Job Training
3. Health Care
4. Socio-Economic Help
5. Counseling on Family Affairs.

Meher Care's efforts have been appreciated by the beneficiaries and quiet naturally, expectations have filled the hearts of those whom Meher Care has not yet been able to reach out to.

Established in the year 2000, Meher Care has, during the last ten years, helped 2300 students, 1500 patients and addressed the socio-economic needs of 1000 desperate families.

Meher Care endeavors, and always hopes, to touch more lives and make them more meaningful and happy.
